If you've recently received tenure, you may be wondering "what happens next?" Designed for mid-career faculty building and thinking about their career trajectory, this two-part series will review shifts in roles, responsibilities and expectations of tenured faculty. We will also discuss leveraging professional development and leadership opportunities, UC San Diego policies on promotion and advancement, and available resources for retentions, accelerations and career equity review. Part 2 of the workshop will be scheduled for Spring Quarter.
